GOOD TIMES

Your guide to what's happening June 10-16

Dance

Ethnic Fest

Fancy footwork from all over the globe is on tap (well, maybe not tap) this weekend as the San Francisco Ethnic Dance Festival brings eight companies to UC Berkeley's Zellerbach Hall to strut their stuff. Pictured is Hui Tama Nui, a Tahitian troupe based in Solano. Also performing will be Gadung Kasturi Balinese Dance and Music; the Middle Eastern company Shabnam Dance from Alameda; the African Heritage Ensemble; the Filipino troupe Parangal Dance Company; the Abhinaya Dance Company of San Jose and San Jose Taiko; Theatre Flamenco of San Francisco and Ballet Folklorico Mexico Danza. Performances are at 8 p.m. Saturday and 3 p.m. Sunday at the venue at Bancroft Way and Telegraph Avenue. For tickets, at $18-$58, contact 415-474-3914 or www.sfethnicdancefestival.org.
